MATTERS WHICH SHOULD APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC

Several petitions or bills are presented to every General Assembly regulating charges of public service corporations in some particular, either by reducing the existing charges, or by changing fare limits, or by requiring additional conveniences or increased service. Most of these bills are rejected by the legislature, largely because of the difficulty of intelligently deciding upon the complicated questions involved.

The Public Utilities Bill, reported to the present General Assembly, provided for a State commission, to be composed of experts who could devote their entire attention to the regulation of these public service corporations; among the duties proposed for this commission was that of regulating the charges of public service corporations upon application of any interested municipality.

It would be possible for such a commission to act intelligently and judicially on the problems involved; for such a commission would have cumulative experience, technical knowledge, and the time necessary for a careful study of the questions.

By public service corporations are meant railroads, street railways, gas companies, electric light and power companies, water companies and telephone companies.

All of these corporations require special privileges from the public; that is, either the right of eminent domain, or the right to place something permanent in the public highways—gas pipes or water mains, or railroad rails, or poles and wires.

It has been held that in return for these special privileges public service corporations are under obligation, as a matter of common law, to furnish the public with reasonable service at reasonable rates. As the state grants these privileges to these corporations for this purpose substantially without cost, the public is clearly entitled to enforce this common-law obligation.

Because of these special privileges public service corporations are commonly monopolies. Consequently, their rates are not controlled by competition. This is an additional reason for vesting in some state official or commission power to investigate, and, if necessary, regulate their charges.

A hearing on the question of whether or not a supervision over the charges of these corporations should be vested in a state commission has been assigned by the Special Committee on Public Utilities for this afternoon at the Capitol.

WHARF DECLARED TO BE PRIVATE PROPERTY

Washington, June 2.—That a steamboat company may exclude others from the use of wharves when owned exclusively by it was in effect decided in the Supreme court of the United States yesterday in the case of the Weems Steamboat Company of Baltimore, against the People's Steamboat Company. The controversy arose over the use of thirteen wharves on the Rappahannock River in Virginia, which are owned by the Weems company. The People's company is the owner of a rival line of boats on the same stream, and the Weems company sought to enjoin it from using its wharves.

The United States circuit court of appeals, however, held that a wharf is not private property in the sense that the public may be excluded from it, and refused to grant the injunction.
The Supreme court reversed that ruling and decided for the Weems company. Justice Peckham announced the opinion of the court.

HOWARD GOULD JEALOUS
OF EGYPTIAN PRINCE

New York, June 2.—That Howard Gould was jealous of Prince Mohamed Ali, brother of the Khedive of Egypt, when the Goulds visited Cairo in 1902, was alleged in depositions by Lieut.
Henry M. Bankhead, U. S. A., and Mrs. Bankhead filed in the county clerk's office here yesterday.

Mrs. Bankhead said that she was present at a luncheon given by Gen.
Long in honor of Mrs. Gould, at which the Prince Mohamed Ali was present, and Mrs. Gould did not drink to excess on that occasion, or on any other occasion that she knew of.

Lieut. Bankhead made a deposition that he never knew Mrs. Gould to drink to excess and corroborated his wife's statements.

Coming Wedding—Baseball—The Jel-

Strawberry Festival — Transfers of Real Estate—Personals.

Yesterday the organist of St. John's Bridgeport, was in town, at St. Paul's church, practicing the music which is to be given at the Wood-Clucus wedding on the 12th inst.

Decorators came to town yesterday to garnish St. Thomas' church for the Heaphy-Haney wedding which will take place to-morrow morning.

The new house being erected on the Beach road, just east of the Hargrove school, is rapidly approaching completion.

One young man in town, Julian Perry, just for the exercise, walked to the auto races at Sport Hill and back, a distance all told of 20 miles.

Miss Emma F. Wakeman is enjoying a short vacation from her library duties.

Men were at work yesterday upon the cellar for the great old Colonial mansion which Miss Anna B. Jennings will cause to be erected on the old homestead farm. The building is to have a facade 185 feet in length.

In the baseball game on Decoration day between the boys of the Fairfield club and the Stars, the attendance was 13 to 5. In the morning the Fair-by Jim Murphy and Arthur Bennett.

The umpire was John Slattery.
John Lahey, Jr., and his two sons, from New York, was a guest of his parents on Decoration Day.

In a game on Monday the new Fair-club and Dew for the Stars, while Bennett caught.

Mr. W. H. Frankenburg, wife and son, from Mt. Vernon, were the guest over the holidays of Mr. and Mrs. C.O.
Jelliff.

A new cottage has been built at Fairfield beach, and named "Kutchepum-moh," which is the Indian for "where the sea begins." It belongs to Mr. C.
O. Jelliff of Southport, and with his family and that of his son-in-law, Mr.
Perry, will be occupied this summer.

Business is reported to be very good at the wire mills in Southport. There is just now a large demand for window screen cloth, for the purpose of shutting out mosquitoes and flies.

Mrs. Quie, the popular bookkeeper at the Wyrten grocery, is taking a short vacation.

The coming excitement in town will be the concert to be given by the Old Virginia Jubilee Singers at the Town hall on Thursday, the 10th inst., to be followed by a real old fashioned strawberry shortcake festival. The ladies who have consented to act as patrons include the following: Mrs. E. L. Bernard, Mrs. A. M. Harrison, Mrs. M. Mc-Kenzie, Mrs. M. Taylor, Mrs. M. J.
Harris, Mrs. J. Williams, Mrs. D.
Christian, Mrs. H. Yates, Mrs. L.
Berry, Mrs. C. H. Smythwick, Mrs. C.
